GIRL GUIDE COOKIES COMING SOON!

Girl Guides is starting a new season! Sadly, we've had to reduce our numbers for now, but we hope we can expand again soon and welcome all interested girls! We are planning a physically-distanced fall program with at-home activities and challenges for the girls to complete and share with their guiding sisters. We will have occasional meetings and outdoor activities to complete our badges, support the girls and volunteer for our community. We are looking for community service projects that we can do during physical distancing. If you have any suggestions, please email Martha at mdowsley@lakeheadu.ca . Girl Guide Cookies will be available for sale. All the proceeds support the girls' programming. The plan is to sell through social media and the boxes will be delivered directly to your house by the supplier. Please check your social media networks in late September, ask girls who are in the club, or email Martha (mdowsley@lakeheadu.ca)

COACH'S CORNER

Stress and the Hormone Cortisol

So, as we move to another level of this history making year we find ourselves making big decisions quickly. Schools opening, most are back at work, time seems to be fleeting on our warm months. With our minds racing to prepare for our next movement through all of our own obstacles to move forward, we are unknowingly causing stress on ourselves.

Cortisol is a hormone produced by the adrenal glands, it is known as the stress hormone. Although vital for our survival, chronically elevated levels lead to weight gain and over eating.

So how do we stop this from getting out of control? Start with controlling the things you can, proper sleep and hydration is a great start. It may sound silly but having a nighttime routine makes us fall asleep faster and we in turn get a healthier sleep. Keeping hydrated make sure you are getting the proper amount of water each day to keep our bodies moving and grooving. Spend a part of your day in nature. (Fact: spending at least 20mins in nature drops stress levels dramatically).

These are some easy and great steps to keep you in control and reduce our Cortisol levels.

Until next time
Keep swinging
